When it comes to designing a retail outlet, creating a themed project related to the outlet is a fundamental task. This initiative requires the delivery of new design standards in various retail environments to address work place functionality; adaption to future equipment and technology changes; customer and employee comforts and an attractive visual appeal.

One of our major driving forces in our ability to provide state-of-the-art retail outlets lies in our close collaboration with leading European manufactures of modular shop fittings.

This tandem ensures that the customer can benefit from technically-advanced modular products manufactured by companies that invest substantially in R&D and S.A.W. Ltd's renowned ability to provide additional custom-built requirements.
